Taking Care of Aging Parents
This seminar explores several aspects of caring for aging parents and identifies issues that can impact their well-being as well as your own. One of the hardest topics almost all of us will face at some time in our lives. Like many of our financial workshops, the sooner you begin the process and the more often you talk about it and plan for it, before you need to, the better it will go. Please note, this is a very personal and not-so-fun topic, but the workshop is very engaging and thought provoking and you will leave feeling empowered. Please join us and plan to share experiences you may have had already or ask questions of others who have already been through this stage of life.

What is a micro-credential?

A micro-credential is a short, competency-based recognition allowing educators to demonstrate specific knowledge or skill. NEA micro-credentials are grounded in research and best practice and created by educators for educators.

➢ Flexible. You can study when it’s convenient for you.
➢ Performance-based. Unlike “sit-and-get” professional learning, NEA micro-credentials are awarded based on demonstrated competence, not just for showing up.
➢ Clock hours. A way to earn Washington state clock hours, and with certain micro-credentials, meet the Washington state STEM or equity certification requirements.

What do I need to do?

1. Complete WEA Micro-credential Orientation. Learn about the process and select a micro-credential. Complete orientation ONCE.
   ○ Monday, April 15, 4:30-6 pm. Micro-credential Orientation. 1.5 clock hours. Register.

2. Register for a NEA micro-credential AND register for WEA clock hours for the specific NEA micro-credential you selected.

Beyond Intrinsic Motivation: Building Reward Systems (Equity)

This course looks beyond self-motivation and the innate desire to succeed. It examines the emphasis on positive behavior interventions. By creating inclusive reward systems and promoting an awareness of the diverse needs and cultural backgrounds of students, learners will contribute to a more equitable and inclusive learning environment.

The participants will compare adult and student perspectives to understand the underlying principles that drive motivation and increase mindset. Given these perspectives (with discussion and self-reflection), participants will obtain ideas and resources to effectively create, track, and facilitate a reward system within a variety of academic settings.

Wednesday, April 3, and Thursday 4, 2024 from 4:30 to 7:30 PM  REGISTER

Teaching Behavior Expectations/Rules in an Inclusive Early Childhood Setting (Equity)

This course shares Evidence-Based Practices (EBPs) for creating, planning, writing, implementing, and teaching behavioral expectations and rules to students in inclusive early childhood settings. This course uses strategies from The Pyramid Model, a positive behavior intervention model for Early Childhood, in combination with individualized strategies, to support all students’ acquisition of behavioral expectations and rules in an inclusive early childhood classroom.

Participants will…
- Discuss inclusion in an Early Childhood Setting.
- Differentiate between expectations and rules.
- Determine and create 3-5 classroom expectations.
- Create a rule matrix for one or more areas of a classroom
- Know 3+ Evidence-Based Practices for teaching expectations/rules in inclusive settings.
- Identify Universal Design for Learning (UDL) strategies for teaching behavioral expectations and rules.

Here a Trigger, There a Trigger, Everywhere a Student Trigger – 2 clock hours

As schools begin to put in place trauma informed practices, one of the most important preventative measures is to identify student triggers. Once we can identify triggers, we can create prevention strategies to reduce student triggers and the resulting negative behavior that often is associated.

Student triggers can be transitions, individuals, sensory disorders, directives, word or even colors that cause an automatic emotional or behavioral response. And once a student is triggered, as adults we sometimes use intense responses to minimize recurrences.

WEA National Board Home Stretch
WEA's National Board Home Stretch takes place just before the National Board portfolio is due, when candidates are getting ready to focus their attention on final revisions. At Home Stretch, small like-certificate groups meet with one NBCT Facilitator to read and provide standards-based feedback on the written commentary for Components 2, 3, or 4 using a specially designed protocol. We do our best to have NBCTs in the same certificate area as candidates; however, that's not always possible based on registration numbers and facilitator availability. Course fee is $25.

Check back for our Spring 2025 Home Stretch Date! Visit our Website for updates.

Candidate Support Opportunities
Washington State has the 3rd highest number of NBCTs in the nation, in part due to the support offered by OSPI and WEA. Offerings listed below are state-wide. Please check with your local and council for additional support opportunities. Course offerings are open to WEA Members only.
